For Sprains

Omega Oil The right time to treat a sprain is the minute you get it. And the right remedy to use is Omega Oil. You can say what you will about this or that thing being good for a sprain, but Omega Oil beats them all.

The quicker you rub it on, and the more of it you use, the sooner the sprain will be gone. Even if Omega Oil gets you back to work one day quicker than other remedies, it will pay for itself several times, but it generally cures a sprain, strain or bruise a week before anything else, and a week's wages amounts to a good deal to most people. If your druggist doesn't sell Omega Oil, ask him to get a supply of his wholesale dealer.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

MYSTERY SHROUDS ATTACK ON WOMAN.

Fashionable Washington Dressmaker Found Beaten Almost to Death in Her Room.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, widow of Walter Dennis, an actor, and a fashionable dressmaker, was found almost dead in her room this morning un-der circumstances that promise to rival hose attending the Bonine murder case. Her skull was fractured, her jawbone broken and her left ear almost severed from the head. Her left arm bore bruises indicative of a struggle, and her clothing and bedding were saturated with blood, She was removed to the Garfield Hospital, where an operation was performed. Her condition is very serious. A large force of detectives was put on the case. The name of her as-saliant is unknown.

The general belief is that Mrs. Dennis was attacked while asleep in her back room on the first floor, and that the first blow, in all probability administered with the plane stool, which was smeared with blood, rendered her unconscious. The investigation by the police fails to indicate that there was any struggle.

Mrs. Dennis, in a conscious moment while being carried to the hospital, said that some one had "hurt" her, but when pressed for details merely responded: "Never mind." Robbery, apparently, was not the motive for the ascault, for on the table at the foot of the bed was a small box containing a pocketbook well filled with greenbacks and other coin.

There was a bloody imprint of a hand on the plane lid in the parlor, and a win-dow in that room was open. It is supposed that the assailant escaped through this

When found, Mrs. Dennis was clad in her night garments, and was in bed under the cover. She was partly conscious, although she has been unconscious most of the time blows of the plane stool must have been dealt with considerable force and that there was no audible outery. Her groans, however, were heard by a woman on the third floor and in the adjoining house. About the same time Policeman Liv-ingston and a watchman, who were two blocks away, heard what they believed to be a woman's screams.

Mrs. Dennis is about 47 years old, and is one of the best known women in business here.

FRATERNAL CONGRESS WILL AID MEMORIAL.

Missouri Beneficiary Societies Pledge Their Support to the McKinley Fund.

Representatives of thirty different fraternal beneficiary societies, composing the Mis-souri Fraternal Congress, pledged themselves last night to the support of the Mc-Kinley National Memorial Association and urged all the organizations included in the congress to do likewise.

Promise was also made that the congress and affiliated societies will take active part in the ceremonies planned for the breaking of ground on the World's Fair site on De-officers were re-elected: Theodore A. Huey, president; Noah M. Givan and William R. Eidson, vice presidents; Charies F. Hatfield, secretary-treasurer, and W. H. Miller, Fast president. The by-laws were changed so that the various societies become members, instead of individuals, as heretofore. Representatives to the congress will receive their credentials from their respective societies. Former officers of the congress and members of standing committees continue to be members of the congress.

Judge Noah M. Givan of Harrisonville, Mo., was the principal orator of the evening. He talked on "The Temple of Fraternity," referring especially to the building which is to be erected on the World's Fair grounds for the especial use of members of secret societies. grounds for the especial use of members of secret societies.

"More than 4,000,999 persons in the United States are members of fraternal organizations," said Judge Givan. "These contribute nore than $50,000,000 annually to the widows and orphans of deceased members. Altogether, fraternal societies in the United States have thus distributed more than $515,000,000."

States have thus distributed more than $515.000,000."

Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, supreme commander of the Ladles of the Maccabees, whose home is in Detroit, Mich., had an engagement to speak elsewhere and after a brief talk she excused herself and departed. Miss Bina 1... West, also a high official in the L. O. T. M., read a paper on "The Fraternal Fress." W. H. Miller, grand master workman for Missouri, A. O. U. W., criticised the minimum-rate legiclation proposed by the National Fraternal Congress.

Nicholas M. Bell had promised to make an address on "The World's Fair." but was unable to be present. W. H. Woodward, a member of the Executive Committee, talked briefly in his place, assuring the congress of the hearty support of the World's Fair organization in its building enterprise.

John I. Martin, chairman of the Committee on Statutory Legislation, reported in detail the work of the committee last winter.

W. R. Edison, president of the Royal Fraternal Union, read a paper on "The Relation of Physicians and Organizers to Fraternal Union, read a paper on "The Relation of Physicians and Organizers to Fraternal Orders." The evening's programme closed with an address by Lieutenant Governor John A. Lee, who expressed the earnest hope that the congress would succeed in all its enterprises.

AMERICAN COMMERCE SUFFERED THE MOST

Marked Reduction in Exports to China in 1900 Due to Internal Disturbances.

The Republic Bureau,

Washington, Dec. 8.-American commerce with China seems to have suffered more during the disturbances of last year than that of other countries. It was well known that the exports from the United States to China last year showed a marked reduction, but it is only through the official ceived by the Treasury Bureau of Statis-tics, that a comparison of the depression in our own Chinese trade with that of other countries can be obtained.

Imports into China from Great Britain in 1909 exceeded those of 1829 by more than 5,000,000 halkwan taels, those from Russia increased 1,000,000 halkwan taels, those from Turkey in Asia, Persia, Egypt, Algiers, etc., increased to a considerable extent, and those from Continental Europe experienced a slight increase; while from the United States the imports fell from 22,285,745 haik-wan taels in 1889, to 16,724,432 in 1900. This was a reduction in imports from the United States of about 25 per cent; while the United States of about 25 per cent; while the States of about 25 per cent; while the United Kingdom showed an increase of more than 19 per cent, Russia more than 25 per cent, the Asiatic countries above mentioned 40 per cent and Continental Europe a slight increase.

An examination of the details of the import trade with China in 1900, compared with that of preceding years, also justifies the conclusion that American trade suffered more than that of other countries during 1900.

Details of American Loss.

Cotton goods and kerosene are the largest imports into China fro mthe United States and they come into competition with English, Dutch and Japanese cotton and Rursian and Sumatran keronsene.

The figures just received by the Treasury Bureau show that in cotton drills the imports of English goods fell from 78.887 pieces in 1839, to 69,047 in 1909, a reduction of less than 10,000 pieces; that the imports of Dutch drills increased from 60,170 pieces to 44,624 pieces, but that those of American drills fell from 1,528,167 pieces in 1839 to 805,832 in 1909, a reduction of more than one-half in American goods; while those from England showed a reduction of less than 15 per cent, and those from the Netherlands an actual gain of more than 10 per cent.

In sheetings those of English manufacture fell from 763,752 pieces in 1899 to 605,139 in 1900, a decrease of about 160,000 pieces; while those of the United States fell from 75,75,901 pieces to 2,312,494, a reduction of more than a million and a half pieces.

Kerosene oil importations of the American product fell from 60,724,989 gallons to 34,441,112 gallons, a decrease of more than 6,600,000 gallons; that from Russia fell from 25,685,115 to 22,708,757 gallons, a decrease of about 3,000,000 gallons; while that from Sumatra showed an increase of over 4,000,000 gallons, the figures for Sumatran oil for 1839 being 11,932,302 gallons and for 1900 16,424,155. Details of American Loss.

MRS. LIZZIE SPLAIN DIES OF INJURIES.

Son Is Held on Suspicion of Having Caused Her Death-Sister a Witness.

Mrs. Lizzie Splain died at the City Hospital last night of injuries supposed to have been caused by kicks and blows. Her son Thomas is under arrest, and his sister declares that he inflicted the injuries on his mother. The young man denies that he struck his mother. Doctor Rassleur of the City Hos-pital says Mrs. Splain's injuries consisted of fractures of several ribs, a fracture of the base of the skull and internal hurts.

The sister told the police Monday that her brother came home drunk Sunday aft-ernoon, and after abusing his mother, became engaged in an argument with her about money. He became so angry that he struck his mother, knocking her down, and then beat and kicked her into insensibility. When he left the house his sister said the carried the unconscious woman to bed. The mother remained in that condition until Monday, when the son, becoming alarmed, notified the police, and she was removed to the City Hospital. He told the police his mother had failen out of bed, but on his integer had reasonable as a received.

McKinley National Memorial Arch Association Abandons Plan of Popular Subscriptions.

Washington, Dec. 10.-The William McKiney National Memorial Arch Association has determined to change its plan of oper-ation so as to appeal to Congress instead of the public for the erection of the pro-posed McKinley Memorial at Washington. Secretary Gage offered the following reso lutions, which were seconded by Mr

Thomas F. Waish, and adopted:

Whereas, Through a resolution presented to this committee by the trustees of the Mc-Kinley National Memorial Association, it is reported that a canvass of the country for subscription to the proposed memorial arch in Washington will be prejudicial if not destructive to the erection of a proper monument or memorial over the remains of the late President at Canton; therefore,

Resolved, That this committee give up its appeal to the country for popular contributions for the memorial arch in Washington, and turn its efforts to secure from Congress an appropriation from the public treasury sufficient in amount to erect in Washington a memorial which in a fitting manner shall represent the nation's appreciation of the mobile character and distinguished public services of William McKinley. Resolved, That this committee accepts the tender of earnest co-operation from the trustees of the McKinley National Memorial Association to erect by the means of congressional appropriation the proposed memorial arch in Washington.

The association will be reincorporated and ington.

The association will be reincorporated and contributions received by the association for the proposed memorial arch will be returned.
